Free In-House Up-Skilling Programme by LSSSDC for Employees BDMAI Member companies

We are pleased to inform that BDMAI in collaboration with LSSSDC is organizing In-House training programmes for up-skilling the employees working with our member companies.

Salient features:

- Life Sciences Sector Skill Development Council (LSSSDC) is mandated for skill development through various programmes of Government of India.Up skilling of employees already working in the industries is one such programme.
- It is a Free Programme organized in the premises of industry.
- Employees working in Production, Maintenance and Quality Control/Quality Assurance will be given training to enhance their skills
- Training duration is 30 hours (2 hours per day for 15 days)
- Successful employees will be given a Certificate by LSSSDC & MSDE (Ministry of Skill Development & Entrepreneurship, Govt. of India)

Advantages to the Industry:

- Availability of trained manpower can be demonstrated as a major strength during any Audits/Inspections
- Morale booster for the employees working to get a certificate issued by MSDE, Govt. of India
- Encouraging employees to upgrade their skills would help in retaining them with the organization

Requirements from the Industry:

- At least 20 employees for each module to be deputed for the training programme, which will be organized as per the timings convenient to the management. In case there are less number of employees in any job role, combing with other job roles may be possible, if company/employee is interested
- A room to be provided for LSSSDC for imparting training
